Adjournment Of Congress Soon Urged

Senator Suggests Session End before Summit Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today it might be a good thing if Congress wound up its session before the start of a United Nations summit conference on the Middle East.

Congress is moving into a stretch drive with some members talking of an Aug. 9 adjournment and others saying it's possible within a week after that. Aug. 11 has been mentioned as a possible starting date if President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and other heads of state meet in New York.

"I think President Eisenhower probably would feel freer to act if Congress were not in session and, as it were, looking over his shoulder at a summit conference," Mansfield said in an interview.

"I would assume the President would keep in close touch with the congressional leaders if we are not in session. In any event he can carry on negotiations with the knowledge he has the united support of the country behind him."

Eisenhower's Middle East policies have come under fire in the Senate and more of this running debate can be expected as long as Congress is in session.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), for instance, has told the Senate he will document for it his charge that Eisenhower's decision to send troops to Lebanon was taken "in clear violation of the Constitution."

Mansfield and Senators J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), among others, have criticized what they called Eisenhower's reluctant attitude toward meeting Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the summit.

Humphrey said on a television program this country should enter such a meeting "with a program in hand, that we clearly understand what we're after and the kind of solution we want."

Mansfield said that whether Congress can adjourn Aug. 9 appears to depend on how fast compromises can be reached on some of the major issues remaining.

49 Nations Open Study On Arms Cut

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—More than 300 legislators from 49 nations today tackled the crucial questions of atomic disarmament and nuclear tests.

Delegates to the Interparliamentary Union Conference had under consideration a resolution calling for an immediate end to the world wide arms race. Another demanded establishment of an international police force to guarantee peace.

The two questions by far are the most ticklish facing the conference since it began last Thursday.

The disarmament resolution is a compromise proposal drafted in Geneva after a huddle of British and Soviet members of the union's governing council. It calls upon the parliaments of all union members "to recommend to governments in the strongest possible terms that speedy action be taken to secure resumption of disarmament negotiations, preferably within the framework of the United Nations."

The Interparliamentary Union is an organization of parliamentary representatives from various countries who meet to discuss world problems in the interest of finding peaceful solutions. Members do not act officially for their respective governments.

Weekend Mishaps Kill 19 Persons

Buddy Is Blamed In Marine's Death

BEIRUT (AP)—A U.S. Marine spokesman said today a private first class, fatally shot Sunday, was killed by the accidental discharge of a companion's .45 caliber automatic.

Lt. Col. Leslie Gilson, Marine spokesman, said four Marines were on an unauthorized visit to a cluster of houses half a mile forward of the Marine position at the time of the accident.

One of the Marines was climbing over a wall when his .45 apparently snagged and the bullet went through the holster into the head of a man standing below. The dead man's name was withheld.

The three surviving Marines are being held for investigation and have requested counsel before making a statement. Under the U.S. Uniform Code of Military Justice men under investigation are not required to make a statement without the advice of lawyers.

Since the Marines landed July 9 to help protect Lebanon's pro-Western government from a pro-Nasser rebellion, three other U.S. servicemen have been killed, all accidentally.

American troop commanders were on the alert to watch for trouble this week, when Lebanon's 66-member Parliament is scheduled to elect a new president.

Robert Murphy, the United States' top diplomatic trouble-shooter, has been conferring with rebel and government politicians in hopes of helping them agree on a compromise candidate. But if a candidate acceptable to both sides cannot be found, the virtually stalemated rebellion may erupt into new violence.

The U.S. military reaction probably would be an increase in motorized and helicopter patrols and a set of new strongpoints. The U.S. policy has been to leave the fight against the rebels to the Lebanese army, whose commanders have been content to contain them in certain sectors of the main cities and the countryside without trying an all-out effort to end the rebellion.

In neighboring Jordan, where British troops were flown in to help protect King Hussein's pro-Western government from elements supporting President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, the Jordanian army said it had captured eight infiltrators near the Syrian border after a clash. Nasser Sunday attended dedi-

Famed Flying Tiger Boss Dies at 67

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault, the Louisiana farm boy who became commander of the famed Flying Tigers of World War II, is dead. He was 67.

A massive arterial hemorrhage ended the ailing general's fight with lung cancer Sunday in Ochsner Foundation Hospital. His wife, Chinese-born Anna Chan Chennault, was at his side at the end.

Chennault's old comrade of the Chinese war against Japan, Mme. Chang Kai-shek, said she was shocked to hear of the general's death.

The Japanese had enough respect for him to name him their No. 1 "war criminal," one ahead of President Roosevelt.

A deaf ear and his outspoken support of Gen. Billy Mitchell forced the then Capt. Chennault to retire from the Army Air Corps in April 1937.

The next month he was in China at the request of Mme. Chiang to inspect the Chinese air force. He stayed on to instruct pilots and supervise the makeshift maintenance of the outmoded Chinese aircraft.

In 1941, Chennault formed the American Volunteer Group, later known as the Flying Tigers.

With shark's teeth painted on the snouts of their outmoded P40 fighters, this outnumbered band of volunteers officially downed 286 Japanese planes in six months. They were generally credited with 300 more kills.

Flying Tiger losses: eight pilots killed in action.

Father Aids His Son, Then Drowns in Lake

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Charles Chester Walker, 34, of St. Joseph, was teaching his son, Stephen, to swim at nearby Sugar Lake Sunday, when suddenly he pushed Stephen toward shore.

Stephen, 8, told officers he and his father were only about 10 feet from the bank when Walker shoved him and then disappeared beneath the water.

About an hour later, divers brought up Walker's body. They found it seven feet down, entangled in moss.

Praise for the United States came from another Arab leader, Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba. He said his nation as well as Western Europe needs U.S. protection.

The situation continued to move back to normal in Iraq, whose July 14 revolution sparked fears that Nasser would also be successful in Jordan and Lebanon. Iraqi assets of 80 million pounds (224 million dollars) were unfrozen in London. Officials in Baghdad said a ban on the international transfer of money would be lifted at once and normal business relations between Iraq and the rest of the world could now be resumed.

Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, premier of the new Iraqi government, proclaimed a provisional constitution until a permanent one is drafted and approved by a referendum.

The provisional constitution declares Iraq is part of the "Arab nation" but is independent and sovereign. It says private property can be nationalized only if the owners are paid for it according to the law.

Kincheloe, a rugged blond whose face someone once said belonged on a recruiting poster, had dreamed of being one of the first space pioneers to blast up into the mysterious void beyond the earth's atmosphere.

"I definitely want to be part of orbital flying," the quiet-spoken Korean War jet ace once told a reporter.

Kincheloe, 30, who liked to drive an old Model A Ford around the base, already had flown to an American altitude record of 126,000 feet in the needle-nosed X-2—fore-runner of the X-15.

Then, last Saturday he was killed when he ejected himself from his crashing F104 jet fighter. Because of the F104's high tail assembly, the ejection was downward. Kincheloe flipped the jet on its back so he was catapulted upward—a difficult maneuver.

"But it was still too late for his chute to blossom fully," said an Air Force investigator. The plane crashed and exploded on the desert.

British Prime Minister Macmillan told the conference earlier: "We intend to maintain the aims of our alliance and to consider how to do this in the light of the present situation."

"Our purpose is to reaffirm the intentions expressed in that instrument (the Baghdad Pact) as a means for collective security."

On hand for the meeting were the prime ministers and foreign secretaries of Britain, Turkey, Pakistan and Iran as well as Dulles.

Iraq, the only Arab member of the anti-Communist alliance, has not withdrawn from the treaty but appears unlikely to play much if any part in the organization in the future. However, a growing tendency within the governments of the United States and the Baghdad group to recognize the Iraqi regime was reported.

Some of the tasks facing the current Council meeting are:

1. A reappraisal of future operations in the light of Iraq's expected withdrawal. This involves changing the name, the headquarters, and the military and economic program.
2. An assessment of the significance of rebel-ruled Iraq's possession of most of the allies' and political secrets. The Iraqi rebels seized most of the important military and political documents formulated for the defense of the region when they took over the Baghdad Pact headquarters building in the Iraqi capital.
3. An examination of the prospects of winning the cooperation of the Russians throughout the Middle East.
4. Formulation of a common attitude — probably involving recognition — toward the new government in Baghdad.
5. Discussion of the political feasibility of coming to some sort of terms with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The United States and Britain have been thinking of trying for the return of normal relations with the Arab nationalist leader in order to reduce his increasing dependence on Russia.

New Outer Space Pilot Is Selected

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Plans for the first Air Force flight into outer space went ahead today despite the death in a jet crash of Capt. Iven Kincheloe Jr.—who had been chosen to make the initial attempt.

The Air Force disclosed the name of the pilot previously selected as Kincheloe's replacement.

He is Capt. Robert M. White, a New Yorker who at 34 is a 16-year Air Force veteran. White is an engineering graduate of New York University and an eight-time winner of the Air Medal.

He becomes part of the three-man team assigned to the secretory of the Air Force as "the first step toward a manned satellite."

U.S. Pledges Aid To Baghdad Pact

LONDON (AP) — John Foster Dulles assured the Baghdad pact nations today the United States would act, even at great risk, to safeguard their independence and integrity against any threats.

The American secretary of state, in the role of observer, was addressing the fifth session of the Baghdad pact council which opened in Lancaster House with one member missing—Iraq.

Dulles' statement was made during a survey of the Middle East scene, in the course of which he set forth the significance of the American military landings in Lebanon.

A-Bomb 'Dirt' Explained by Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy says that whether the Pentagon is making its atomic bombs dirtier hinges on the point of view.

McElroy told Congress that bombs have been withdrawn from stockpile and modified so they can be exploded at ground level. This in turn would make their fallout dirtier in the immediate area although he said the total fallout would remain the same.

But he said the purpose of the change to a surface blast is to insure destruction of such heavy targets as missile launching sites, pillboxes and submarine launching pens.

"Whether a bomb which has been modified to provide an optional surface burst is dirtier or not depends on the point of view," McElroy said in a letter to the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee. The letter was made public Sunday night.

A bitter debate over the issue was triggered three months ago when Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (NM), senior Senate Democrat on the committee, charged bombs had been taken out of the nation's nuclear arsenal and made dirtier by inserting something, Lewis Strauss, then chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, flatly denied this.

A bomb's dirtiness is measured by the amount of radioactive fallout it produces. Scientists agree that large amounts of fallout over a long period could endanger future generations.

McElroy said in a letter to the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee. The letter was made public Sunday night.

Red Offers To Meet in Any Country

All Would Be 'Safe' In Moscow, He Says In Needling Letter

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today of trying to scuttle an East-West summit conference proposed for New York. He offered as an alternative to convene the talks in Moscow or any other place in Europe suitable to the four other powers.

By the four other powers he meant the United States, Britain, France and India.

He said the Soviet government would guarantee the safety and security of the participants if they met in Moscow.

He was making this offer, he said, because American diplomats and the American press had expressed concern about the difficulty of guaranteeing security of the participants if the meeting were held in New York.

"We do not want to make it difficult for the U.S. government," Khrushchev said in a letter to Eisenhower broadcast by Moscow radio. "We can meet in any of the European capitals. We also would like the meeting to take place in Moscow."

"As regards India's participation, we hold that it is important for her to take part. As to the date of the conference, we named July 28. We are ready for another early date and we would like a confirmation from the U.S.A. concerning this date."

In an apparent attempt to split the Western Allies, the Soviet Premier accused British Prime Minister Macmillan of resorting to "maneuvering" but praised French Premier de Gaulle.

Khrushchev told President Eisenhower "You do not work for peace" and accused him of stalling off a summit conference.

The Soviet leader said: "The President's message of July 22 welcomed throughout the world and people hoped the summit conference would be held without delay, removing the threat of war in the Middle East and Near East."

Eisenhower, in his July 22 message, challenged Khrushchev to complain to the U.N. Security Council personally if he believes British-American military moves endangered world peace.

On July 25 Eisenhower proposed the Security Council make the arrangements for the summit meeting.

Khrushchev tonight said: "The Security Council has already been discussing the Middle Eastern crisis and as yet failed to do anything at all."

"The area in question is becoming more like a powder keg which can precipitate a world holocaust. Hence the urgency of a five-power conference with the attendance of the U.N. secretary general."

"If we genuinely want to reduce tension, we must agree that it is the five powers (Britain, United States, France, Soviet Union, India) that will have to settle the problem. It seems that an effort is made to bury the previous idea

Trading Heavy On Today's Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers were higher in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point.

The trend was slightly higher in early dealings but more losses appeared as profits were taken on the strong rise of last week. Chemicals, big gainers last week, were clipped. Motors were mostly steady. The coppers came to life with a sudden spurt.

The weekend business news was encouraging over-all but the relatively high level of prices left many stocks vulnerable.

Steels, rails and oils were irregular. Aircrafts and electronics showed a higher tendency.

Kennecott rose about two points, Anaconda well over a point and Phelps Dodge a fraction.

Considerable investment buying and short covering combined with the profit taking to boost activity.

Chrysler ran ahead more than a point in a spate of late buying. American Motors dropped a fraction.

Allied Chemical was off two early then reduced this loss a bit. Du Pont and American Cyanamid fell about a point each.

Firestone hopped more than a point ahead while a loss of equal proportions was taken by Lorillard.

Gulf Oil was down about a point. U.S. government bonds eased.

Ah, Alcohol -- That's the Rub!

Hidge Apple Cooking Brings Trouble

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — All Kenneth Welch wanted to do was find a commercial use for the hedge apple. But that was before he reckoned with the revenooers.

No one had ever found any use for the hedge apple, Welch, a 40-year-old stonecutter, thought he would try boiling the fruit.

His experiments led him to believe that from a ton of hedge apples he could get 67 pounds of vegetable oil, 24 pounds of an antioxidant compound for use as a food preservative, 308 pounds of high protein dried pulp good for cattle feed, and 20 gallons of ethyl alcohol.

Ah, alcohol. That's where the rub came. A good citizen, Welch figured that since alcohol was one of the products, he had better tell the federal alcohol tax people what he was about to do.

"The alcohol wasn't what I was after," he relates, "but they couldn't understand what I was doing. I believe they thought I was some kind of bootlegger."

"They confiscated all the alcohol, dumped out all my experiments and told me I couldn't do any more experimenting under any circumstances. They took all my equipment, too, including my wife's pressure cooker."

Then the government sent a bill for $111.53 — taxes on the alcohol he had produced.

That was about two years ago, and Welch says he's still sparring with the alcohol tax people.

"One assistant U.S. attorney said I'd caused him more trouble than any man he'd ever dealt with," Welch says, not without a note of pride.

Welch's friends carried his story to Rep. Charles Brown (D-Mo), whose protests drew, among other things a suggestion that Welch's difficulty stemmed from failure to qualify in a lawful manner as a distiller. The official suggested that Welch post a bond.

Other results:

1. Welch got a letter from the regional tax office in Omaha advising the bond should be at least $5,000 or $10.50 per proof gallon for any alcohol produced in a 15-day period.

2. The government sent a report that his alcohol tested 157.9 and 126.8 proof.

3. Mrs. Welch got back her pressure cooker.

Welch allows that if he had it to do all over again, "Darned if I wouldn't keep my mouth shut about it until I had it done."

FROM DEATH TO LUXURY VACATION—James Foster, the South Carolinian who lived in a death cell for two years, gets lots of attention from his wife and seven children in Daytona Beach, Fla. He was released when another man confessed the murder for which Foster had been sentenced to die. A businessman who read about the case treated the family to a vacation. Children are ages 6 to 19.

Terrorists' Attacks Kill 4 in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Algerian nationalist rebels killed at least 4 persons and injured 37 in terrorist attacks over the weekend.

Foreign Legion paratroopers again moved into the ancient Casbah of Algiers, the stronghold of the rebel spirit in the city.

Among the weekend's victims was Ali Akrouf, pro-French mayor of the village of Boudjima in the rebel-infested Kabylie Mountains. He was cut down by two pistol bullets as he ventured outside his village, held by a French army battalion.

Teays Valley Hires Mrs. Stafford

Mrs. Minerva Stafford, 50, Portsmouth, was hired last week by the Teays Valley Board of Education to teach the third and fourth grades at DuVall School, Harrison Twp.

Mrs. Stafford was born in West Virginia and attended Kermit and Wayne North, W. Va., Schools. She attended Concord State College, from 1939-41, and received a degree from Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., in 1953.

She has a four-year provisional certificate and has 19 years teaching experience. Mrs. Stafford also has done substitute teaching for five years. She taught four years in the Scioto County school system.

The hiring of Mrs. Stafford left the county with just seven vacancies to fill.

No Reward; Lady Is Too Flustered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxi driver Melvin James let a woman passenger off at a downtown bank and drove off.

Some six blocks away he saw a large purse on the back seat, and hurried back to the bank. The woman wasn't there.

He looked into the purse. It contained $2,300 in cash.

James searched the nearby area and found the woman, standing bewildered in the middle of the sidewalk.

"She said the $2,300 belonged to her recreational club's funds," said James. "The loss had hit her hard. She didn't even know what kind of a cab she had been in."

Any reward?

"No. She was so flustered I guess she forgot."

Autoist Recovers Own Stolen Car

CLEVELAND (AP)—A visitor from Philadelphia, Levi Hennant, went to police headquarters to report the theft of his car.

As he and a friend drove away from the station they spotted an auto that looked familiar. Giving chase, they forced it to the curb. Sure enough, it was Hennant's car.

While his friend collared the 17-year-old boy who had been driving the missing vehicle, Hennant anxiously opened the trunk.

The youth hadn't bothered to look inside. There, untouched, was the paper sack containing Hennant's $1,000 in vacation money.

Agency Sets New Code Of Ethics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has adopted a strong code of ethics to guide its members against any efforts of government bigwigs seeking to influence the agency's decisions.

Announcement of the code came in the wake of a recent House investigation that turned up evidence that a White House aide, at the request of Sherman Adams, had inquired about a case before the SEC involving Adam's friend Bernard Goldfine.

The code—adopted Friday—stipulates that members of the five-man commission should:

1. Be firmly independent and "reject any effort by representatives of the executive or legislative branches" to affect their decisions.
2. Not be swayed by partisan

Wall Street Bulls Sniffing Inflation Ahead

Upturn in Business Causes High Bidding For Stock Issues

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The bulls are sniffing inflation ahead and are confident that the turn in business is here. That is why last week they bid up stock prices almost to the record high of a year ago.

In doing this they are putting their own interpretation on the Middle East crisis and on the effects of a possible visit of Khrushchev to these shores.

Corporate earnings statements for the first half of the year also look different to the bulls than to the bears. In fact the bulls are ignoring the numerous bears, whose betting on a further shake out in the market is shown by a record volume of short selling (making a sales contract now in belief the stock can be bought later at a lower price to fulfill the contract at a profit).

The bulls also think the inventory trend is turning—from drastic piling of stocks to inquiries and actual orders that herald a rebuilding of stocks in the near future—with the Middle East playing a large role.

The bulls hold that the Middle East crisis is to be a war of nerves instead of bullets. This would support many of the forces making for further inflation: increased spending for defense, larger federal deficits, a higher debt ceiling. In other words, the government will be pumping more money into the economy by deficit spending than it will be taking out by tax collections. Business usually reacts to this by a spurt of activity on its own.

Inflation has another built in booster. This is the automatic rise in some wage scales, and the prospects of pay hikes in other industries — prospects which increased world tension and inflation of the monetary system make all the stronger.

Corporate earnings reports can be interpreted differently, depending on whether you're a bull or a bear.

The bear sees that in general corporate earnings are well below those of this time last year. Prices of many stocks are many times their present earnings per share—a higher ratio than many market counselors think healthy, judging by past performances of this market.

The bull notes the sizable list of companies reporting their earnings in the last three months were much better than in the first three months of the year. He deduces that the recession hit bottom about the time of the spring equinox and that the mild rebound in late spring will gain bounce in the fall.

The bull sizes on signs that consumers are spending a bit more now than in the uncertain days of late winter, that increased defense spending is beginning to show, that industrial output rose in June and the factory work week lengthened.

To the cautious this adds up to an end of the recession—and not necessarily to a reason for a renewed bull market in stocks.

But the bull scents renewed inflation born of world tension and federal deficits. He expects business to react enthusiastically.

And that could be why you see bulls pushing The Associated Press average of 60 stocks to 183, just five points below its year ago level, just six points below the record high of July 12, 1957—and a spanking 32 points above its level at the start of this year.

Anit-Religious Nazi Chief's Son Is Priest

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Martin Bormann, son of the Nazi leader who tried to wipe out religion, has dedicated his life to God.

In a ceremony in the Jesuit Holy Trinity Church here, he was one of 26 deacons ordained priests of the Roman Catholic Church. He wants to do missionary work in the Belgian Congo.

Attending the rituals and united for the first time since the downfall of the Third Reich in 1945 were surviving members of the Bormann family.

Bormann's father, Hitler's top lieutenant and head of the Nazi party, disappeared from Hitler's bomb shelter in Berlin in the final days of the war. He was sentenced to death in absentia by the Allied War Tribunal at Nuremberg in 1946. He is believed dead.

Martin Jr., now a 28-year-old bearded monk of the Sacred Heart of Jesus Mission Order, became separated from his family and fled alone to the Austrian Province of Salzburg in 1945. He was sheltered by a Catholic family and accepted the Catholic faith in 1947. Shortly afterward he entered the Sacred Heart of Jesus in order to prepare for the priesthood.

Toothpaste Cleans, That's All

If there's one thing sure about face creams as cosmetics it is that they are good for dry skin if they contain an emollient like lanolin, which is simply wool grease. Women who pay big money for miracle creams will probably keep on doing so.

But they can take the word of the dermatologists and the American Medical Association that no miracles will happen. Aging of the skin is affected only by the processes of bodily health from within—not by anything rubbed on externally.

If there's one thing sure about toothpastes it is that they help clean the teeth and gums when applied with a toothbrush. They can do that, and that's important. But that's about all they can do, says the American Dental Association. Its spokesmen have so testified before the congressional investigating committee of Representative Blatnik of Minnesota.

Dr. Harry Lyons, dean of the Dental School of the Medical College of Virginia, and a former ADA president, laid it on the line:

"One after another the 'therapeutic' dentifrices have been promoted with unported advertising claims of great promise. None has survived the test of time and use."

Dr. Lyons took care to scotch the claims as to certain enzymes and "compounds of fluorine," which do their good work only as an inside, not an outside job. He didn't say that any of the "miracle" toothpastes were actually harmful—any more than a cosmetic from a recognized maker is harmful. But there are many credulous readers of toothpaste advertising as of cosmetic ads?

Many a woman who sees toothpaste as a simple necessity—and wouldn't think of paying $10 a tube for it—will scrimp every nickel and dime she can to amass $10 or $15 for a face cream of magic ingredient advertised as the key to perpetual youth.

Representative Blatnik says his committee will turn its searchlight on cosmetics advertising in due course. If he is not dismayed by the great lobbying power of a conscienceless section of the cosmetics industry, and chooses to try for some legal curbs on its claims, he may someday be regarded as one of the heroes of America.

Secrets Now Harder To Keep

Secrets are harder to keep than in the "old days." There is a growing army of operators willing to ferret them out—for a price. They apparently succeed in many cases and make an excellent living.

Most of the operators are "graduates" of military intelligence organizations, the FBI, the OSS, or the CIA. They have had training as spies and in the use of complicated electronic equipment. They work either as free lances or as employees of corporations or government.

Their equipment is elaborate and efficient. It includes wire-taps, sensitive listening devices capable of picking up conversations many feet away, telescopic microphones of conversations that are deciphered by lip-readers, and tiny transmitters hidden near an executive's desk and capable of broadcasting every word spoken there for two weeks to a receiver blocks away.

According to Fortune magazine, such espionage is an important factor in many commercial operations, whether they involve million-dollar contracts or a supermarket's special for a future sale. But even men trained in the most modern espionage technique still place their greatest reliance on the oldest method of learning secrets—bribery of a trusted employee or associate of the person or firm under surveillance.

Some things, sad to say, do not change very much.

Nikita in the Big City

By George Sokolsky

The first time the Eisenhower Administration took a strong step, sent troops to Lebanon, established an area base in Turkey, while our ally, Great Britain, went into Jordan, Nikita Khrushchev agreed to come to New York to join in the interminable pow-wow at the United Nations.

First he wanted to go to Geneva where it is cool and refreshing during the summer months and to bring Nehru along with him. He wanted President Eisenhower to be in Geneva last Tuesday; Eisenhower did not go to Geneva as instructed.

So Khrushchev announced his willingness to come to New York along with Nehru and a bunch of Arabs. When and if they come to the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld unquestionably will put out a red carpet for Khrushchev and the Hungarians will march on a picket line.

That picket line will be some problem for the local police, but men may engage in lawful picketing, as long as they do not throw ink bottles the way they do in Moscow. In fact here they may not throw anything except words. It might be suggested to the Hungarians that they arrange a float, upon which they place their four most publicized Hungarian refugees, Mamma Gabor and her three daughters, Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda. They will then be sure of an enormous crowd, for who would not prefer to see the Gabor family to a look at Nikita Khrushchev? The Gabor family might wear Hungarian gypsy costumes and sing to the music of a zembala.

As Khrushchev is to visit us as a member of a United Nations delegation, nobody but Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., is under any obligation to be civil about it. This being an important election year in New York State, it is understandable that neither Gov. Harriman nor Mayor Wagner can afford to make a fuss over Nikita.

It would be worth a million votes to the Republicans if the Democrats would entertain Nikita, and vice versa. Of course, a ticker tape parade would be too dangerous; someone might throw the ticker instead of the tape.

However, we are an hospitable people and will do nothing to embarrass our own government but Khrushchev ought to know that New York is the city where the ghosts of those whom he murdered in the Ukraine, Hungary and Poland, walk in the memory of living men and women.

This visit is an excellent reason why it would have been preferable to have the United Nations somewhere else. New York is too cosmopolitan a city for it. I have often wondered at the fine law-abiding qualities of the residents of New York under the provocation of having all kinds of murderers, assassins, enemies of the United States and similar evil characters standing up in the United Nations, denouncing their country, lying about the American people, betraying us and demanding tribute from us—and no more attention was paid to what they do and say than to last year's hockey game at Madison Square Garden.

New Yorkers have grown accustomed to wind-bags, having from earliest times been habituated to speechifying. After all, this is the city where Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton quarrelled until Burr shot Hamilton over on the Jersey side. This town knew Lucky Luciano and "Dutch" Schultz and similar characters and got used to them. The same as this town gets used to every novelty, including seeing this country, lying about the diplomats parked in front of fire hydrants whereas citizens are fined for doing the same.

So, one day, perhaps we shall have the spectacle of Khrushchev, Nehru and Nasser taking liquid refreshments in the Stork Club although for a meal, I would recommend the new restaurant, "The Forum of the Twelve Caesars," whose likenesses are upon its walls.

There Nikita can gaze upon Caligula, while Nasser looks upon Nero and Nehru looks at nobody but himself as one who is about to fade from the scene so often does.

Also, in such a place, Nikita can drink vodka made in Pennsylvania or California and eat caviar from Iran, but as he well knows, the caviar is neither Russian nor Persian but the eggs of a fish without nationality. Or they can go to the Pavilion or the Colony where they will see refugees from their outrages living in freedom and high style.

So, we say, All Hail, Nikita!

Within the next ten years you likely will be able to dial a telephone number to Europe directly from any point in the United States, reports the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A TROUBLED wife told an analyst that her husband was as sane and normal as she was herself—but for one minor detail: he thought he was a race horse! "Odd delusion," admitted the analyst, "and I'm afraid I'll have to charge you $10,000 to cure him." "That's a sum we can easily afford today," she agreed lightly. "Last May, you see, my husband says he won the Kentucky Derby."

New excuse for staying away from work popped up in a Manhattan office. A long-haired accountant, asked to explain why he hadn't shown up at all the day previous, explained airily, "Gee, Boss, it was Mozart's birthday, and I felt I ought to spend it with the kids!"

Man in a midtown night club gazed appreciatively at one of those extraordinarily-endowed new movie queens swept majestically into view. "That girl will go far," he predicted, then added, "In fact, she's halfway there already."

Who's Bedtime Boss?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Youngsters, just in case some of you didn't know, like to feel important. They rejoice in being the center of things.

And if they can get Mom and Pop to wait on them they feel like kings.

Most youngsters begin conniving just before they go to bed. They'll stall as long as they can and, once they're in bed, they begin making a bid for attention.

First request in the majority of cases is to call for a drink of water. You'd think your tot was dying of thirst in the middle of the Sahara Desert the way he longs for a couple of sips of water!

If he gets that, or even if he doesn't, his next move most likely will be to advise you threateningly that he has to go to the bathroom.

If you answer this request—and most parents don't dare to ignore it—he knows he's got you just where he wants you. By this time you are working for him, and he'll keep you enslaved just as long as he can possibly get away with it. His next query (it's likely to be more of a demand by now) is to ask:

"What's that?"
If you fall for this one and ask him what was what, he'll reply that he heard "a noise."

Unless you let him know in no uncertain terms that you have had enough of his monkeyshines, his next move—and you can almost bet on it—will be to call for a handkerchief.

Then he will ask you to cover him, to straighten the bedclothes and, finally, to "read me a story." You must take a firm stand right at the beginning or you are licked.

Make sure you give him plenty of love and attention during the daytime and especially before going to bed. Then, when he is put to bed, be firm with him. Don't be bullied.

When you say goodnight, tell him that it is final; that you will tolerate no foolishness. If you say it in a convincing manner you'll get results.

Question and Answer
Mrs. J. L.: Why are persons with ulcers in most cases forbidden to drink and smoke?

Answer: Since smoking and the drinking of alcoholic beverages act as a stimulant for the secretions of hydrochloric acid and other digestive juices, they may perpetuate and even increase the symptoms of the ulcer. Therefore, many doctors believe that it is inadvisable for a person suffering from this disease to either smoke or drink alcoholic beverages.

The World Today

By James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev could just as well stay home—for all the good they'll do—if they turn their summit meeting into a gab session on who's struck John?

That's what they've been doing so far in their exchange of letters: they've clubbed each other over the head, each blaming the other side for stirring up the Middle East.

Khrushchev has written vaguely about "recommendations" and "solutions" at the summit meeting. Eisenhower, even more vague on what the meeting should do, so far hasn't even said he'd be there himself—though others say he will if there is a meeting.

Both men have an opportunity to come up with solid, creative proposals for assuring Middle East peace and stability. There's no indication either will go to the meeting with such proposals ready.

Even if they do, it won't be easy to get agreement. For example, if all the Arab states were linked together peacefully tomorrow, how could they then be kept from trying to destroy the Jewish state of Israel?

Most likely no solutions will come directly from the summit conference. Perhaps because of time and details involved, the most that can be expected is some general agreement on working for a solution.

Then the matter could be turned over to the big powers' foreign ministers to be hammered out. And then the chances for accomplishing exactly nothing look bright indeed.

That's what happened after the summit meeting three years ago. The generalized and high-sounding pronouncements of West and East at Geneva in 1955 evaporated when the foreign ministers later got together to work them out.

The Eisenhower-Khrushchev letters on this expected meeting have been highly self-conscious performances with the whole world watching.

Khrushchev, handed a free chance to wrap himself in the role of peacemaker, called for a summit meeting and blamed the West for Middle East troubles. It was a wonderful propaganda chance. And he took it.

He put Eisenhower on the defensive. Much of the President's answering letter was taken up with explaining the American position and trying to dump the basic blame on the Soviet Union for what happened among the Arabs.

Once the two men get together the world is going to look for something more substantial than propaganda. So both will be under pressure to produce solutions instead of denunciations. This may not deter them.

But if one side balks at what looks like reasonable proposals from the other, everyone will be in a position to see who's stalling. Look out if there is only general, but no detailed, agreement.

With the summit meeting ended and the job of working out details later handed over to the foreign ministers, everything, as in the past, can be quietly strangled.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A short while ago my husband was initiated into an organization that I don't name. This organization doesn't include women, but has a sister organization, which husband and wife may join.

The men's organization is supposed to be very proper; but I learned accidentally that my husband removed his clothing during the initiation. When confronted, he admitted as much; but, after talking with his "brothers," he denied it.

To me it looks as if they have something to hide,—not letting wives join their group, whereas they join the wives' group. This has caused quite an emotional crisis in our home and I would like to know if I should try to forget it—hard as it seems—or take some action.

I am almost afraid to breathe a word, for fear my husband, or me, or one of our children may be harmed. Please help me if you can.

K.R.

DEAR K.R.: Not being a man, naturally I don't know what goes on in secluded ceremonies, when men initiate other men into their secret societies. But at least I have no special bias in favor of these monkeyshines.

As for what you have to worry about, I'll have to "dig" it by deduction, a la Sherlock Holmes, since you don't name the organization.

Let me say immediately that I think you can afford to relax and take the organization at face value, as regards its moral character. Don't jump to fears of the worst, simply because you are shocked by something you've heard about its initiation antics—even if what you have heard is true.

Secret societies usually are neither better nor worse than the people who belong to them. So, if your husband's group is a locally respected outfit, in the sense that "proper" people belong—people of decent habit and responsible attitude in their everyday role—then it is probably harmless enough. However, the average fraternal order usually injects a certain amount of jocular rough house into its initiation ceremonies. The better educated, more mature and civilized, non-neurotic members of the organization may privately disapprove and deplore this crude approach to "togetherness." But they feel obliged to go along with it, in a spirit of conciliation and compromise, as part of the price of being "good fellows."

In certain primitive cultures, when the men get together, to celebrate maleness and take in new fellows, part of the ritual consists in raising a fearful racket behind the scenes, with noise-making

Maybe that's your situation in a nutshell. Possibly you are worrying about a sportive incident, best forgotten, that your husband can't explain or discuss to your satisfaction, without bringing the lodge down on his neck, for talking too much, in violation of secrecy rules. So why don't you stop trying to pry, and trust his judgment, if he indicates no crime was committed.

New Optimism Sweeps Over U.S. Business

Statistics Back Up Belief that Nation's Economy Over Hump

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An air of optimism is sweeping over the business scene. It has firm statistical backing. Business is improving, and is doing so at a time of year when it ordinarily does not. Changes in economic conditions are not difficult to recognize, but often they are difficult to accept. This certainly was true last summer. The obviously deepening economic deterioration at that time was rejected by people conditioned to uninterrupted expansion.

A similar situation, but in reverse, undoubtedly exists to some extent now. The tendency of many will be to reject this week's comments of Dr. Gabriel Hauge, economic adviser to President Eisenhower. Dr. Hauge said:

"In my opinion the recession is ended. I think we're on our way to a good period of rising activity."

Additional statistical information arose this week to support Dr. Hauge's position. Moreover, government action indicated an acceleration of the upward trend regardless of the outcome of the United Nations summit conference on the Middle East.

Various government agencies are pouring out money at a rate to give a banker apoplexy. Defense contracts mount each week and the Senate Appropriations Committee this week increased the amount President Eisenhower has requested for defense in the next 12 months.

Farmers will get nearly 1 billion dollars from the government this year, the largest sum on record, partly for retiring crop land. In June the Bureau of Public Roads' contract awards for the national highway program doubled the awards of May, it was announced Thursday.

The Council of Economic Advisers this week announced the gross national product advanced during the second quarter after hitting a recession low in the first quarter. Valuation of building permits in June set a new record, Dun & Bradstreet noted.

Personal spending has reversed its downward trend and headed upward, the Department of Commerce reported. Machine tool orders increased in June. Crude oil production, department store sales, electricity output and freight car loadings expanded in the latest week.

Caterpillar Tractor, General Electric, Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing, Goodyear Tire & Rubber and Westinghouse Electric were among companies recalling workers.

FDR Held First 'Summit' Parley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Summit meetings found their modern basis in the dramatic months before the United States entered World War II. President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met secretly aboard ship off Newfoundland and announced the Atlantic Charter Britain was at war, the United States still officially neutral. The next time the leaders met, both nations were allied in the war.

Here is a rundown of summit meetings: Casablanca, Mexico, Jan. 14-24, 1943 — Roosevelt and Churchill vowed to seek the unconditional surrender of the Axis nations.

Cairo, Nov. 22-26, 1943 — Roosevelt and Churchill met with China's Chiang Kai-shek. The three pledged their determination to defeat Japan and free Korea.

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 28-Dec. 1, 1943 — Roosevelt, Churchill and Soviet Premier Stalin discussed a joint plan of action against Germany.

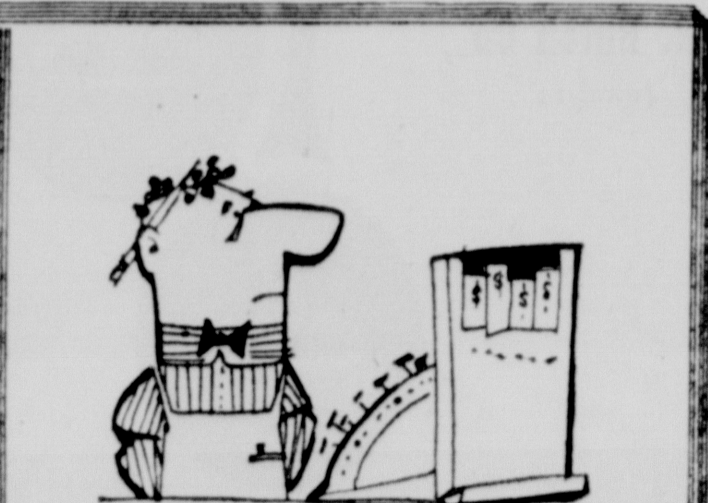

Yalta, the Crimea, Feb. 3-11, 1945 — The same three men met on Soviet soil. After this meeting, the Soviet Union entered the war against Japan.

Potsdam, Germany, July 17-Aug. 2, 1945 — President Truman met with Churchill and Stalin. Churchill then was relieved by his successor, Clement Attlee. This meeting concerned plans for a defeated Germany and the nations of Europe. Afterward Truman refused to meet with Stalin abroad again.

Washington, Nov. 15, 1945 — With the United Nations gathering strength in San Francisco, Truman, Attlee and Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King met in Washington. They agreed to hang onto atomic secrets until the U.N. was ready to control them.

Geneva, July 18-23, 1955 — President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden, French Premier Edgar Faure and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin met in this atmosphere of great hope. Nikita Khrushchev was there too. The meeting aimed to find an answer to the unification of Germany. It failed. The United States won attention with Eisenhower's open skies disarmament plan.

The Geneva meeting was the first one held after Churchill applied the word summit to a meeting of chiefs of governments.

One-Time RKO Starlets Now Running Big Studio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ann Sothern and Lucille Ball were walking together along a street at Desilu Studios.

"Don't you get a funny feeling in this place," said Lucille, gazing around her.

"I sure do," said Ann. "We used to be starlets together when the studio was RKO. Now you own the place and I'm a producer."

It's a curious turn of events, but then, that's show business. Lucille and her husband Desi Arnaz became owners of the studio through the success of "I Love Lucy" and their other TV ventures.

Now Ann, with one successful TV series behind her, is blossoming out with another. This time she's nobody's "Private Secretary." She's the boss.

"Yes, I'm going to produce the series myself," she said. "I don't know exactly how I got into this. I'm really more interested in what I'm doing before the camera than with worries about scripts, dressing rooms, casting and so forth."

But she's plunging right into the new series. It's called, of all things, The Ann Sothern Show.

"That's against my wishes," she commented. "I wanted to sell it 'Career Girl.' But everybody told me people would refer to it as 'The Ann Sothern Show' anyway."

"I think we have great prospects for a powerhouse lineup on CBS Monday nights. First will come 'Father Knows Best,' then Danny Thomas and my show, followed by 'Desilu Playhouse'."

Ann gets out from behind the typewriter this time. She plays the assistant manager at a swank New York hotel. Ernest Truex is the fussy manager and Retta Shaw is her amply-proportioned wife. There are several wacky continuing characters to enliven the fun. And since it's a hotel, there's no end to the new figures who can be introduced.

Among those who are already scheduled to sign the register are Lucy and Desi themselves, and Jim Arnnes.

The new series will find Ann on TV every week, whereas she used to alternate with Jack Benny with Private Secretary. She'll have to film 32 shows, and that will keep her hopping until next March.

"I've got a beautiful house waiting for me at Sun Valley, but I won't get to see it except for a three-week vacation," she sighed.

Mideast Seen Hiking Steel Price in U.S.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Developments in the Middle East could speed a decision on boosting steel prices, the magazine "Steel" said today.

The metalworking weekly noted that as steelmaking firms report second quarter earnings they continue to stress the need for higher prices.

An expected July 1 price boost to compensate for higher labor costs has not materialized. Most observers, "Steel" commented, think U.S. Steel Corp., usually the leader in price movements, is waiting for a stronger market before announcing increases.

Steel demand is increasing, "Steel" said, aided mostly by automotive orders but also to some extent by the Middle East crisis.

In at least one case increased demand was traced directly to the Middle East situation. An oil drum manufacturer who had been restricting his sheet supplier to shipments of a few carloads a month announced that he wanted all his orders delivered at once. He guessed that more drums would be needed to airlift oil to the Middle East, said "Steel."

Steelmaking operations increased in a number of districts last week, pushing the national average upward half a point to 56 per cent of rated capacity. Scrap prices rose for the fourth week in a row. "Steel's" composite on the prime grade rose to $37.67, up $1.

2 Men Killed In Quarrel At Tavern

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Two men are dead after a barroom quarrel in nearby Fosters that erupted into a shooting at the tavern's front door.

County Prosecutor Fred Jones said he plans to file charges today against Carl Lilly, 52-year-old Fosters auto repair shop operator and part-time bartender.

Sheriff's deputies said Lilly admitted shooting to death John Lewis Jr., 31, Loveland Park, and Lewis' neighbor, James Harvey Sykes, 34, early Sunday.

Investigators said Lilly told them

The Idaho Education Assn. estimates the cost of operating its school system is 75 million dollars annually.

the two attacked him with knives outside the tavern and he fired at them with a .25 caliber pistol he was carrying to his car.

Deputies said a closed pocket knife was found near Lewis.

Witnesses said the three had left the tavern after an argument over attentions the three victims had paid to Mrs. Goldie Ashburn, wife of the tavern owner.

'Blue Moon' To Be Seen Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — That "once in a Blue Moon" time is here again.

Next Wednesday there will be a "Blue Moon."

Dr. Lloyd R. Wylie, Wittenberg College astronomer, explains that "Blue Moons" actually occur seven times every 19 years and is a term applying to the second full moon that occurs within one calendar month. Because it is a comparative rarity, the second full moon in the month became known in olden days as an omen of bad luck, hence the term "Blue Moon."

Dr. Wylie assures us, however, that the moon does not actually become blue. It retains its reddish hue caused by the scattering of red colors in reflected sunlight.

A "Blue Moon" comes on the 30th or 31st day of a month, Dr. Wylie says, because the interval between full moons is 29½ days. If the moon is full on the first day of a 30-day month, it becomes full again before midnight on the 30th. And if the moon is full before noon on the second day of a 31-day month, it will be full again before noon on the 31st.

The last "Blue Moon" occurred Oct. 31, 1955. Dr. Wylie said after next Wednesday, there won't be another until April 30, 1961.

Household Hints

Use one part of catchup or chili sauce to three parts of mayonnaise when you are making Russian dressing, then add minced green pepper, pimiento-stuffed olives, capers and pickle relish.

Delicious and nutritious summer drink: Add vanilla to cocoa or chocolate (made as usual) and then chill and serve with vanilla ice cream. Straws and long spoons needed!

Boston ivy, suitable for covering brick or stone walls, turns pretty shades of orange and crimson in the fall.

FROSTED WHITE silk or-ganza flounces prettily around the hips of this short bouffant party dress by Arnold Scaasi. Banded low across the bodice and fitted through the torso, it is covered with a floral-printed middie jacket—its wide collar and cuffs trimmed in white or-ganza.

Don't Go To Extremes
In Following Fashions

"LITTLE GIRL LOOK" calls for youth and light make-up, such as a rose lipstick. Hat's cute, dress is too much so!

We've all seen the vamp and the flapper of the 1920's and the "little-girl look" of the 1950's in cartoon and picture books. That's where they belong, but now they're making in-person appear-ances.

It's the new fashions and, as usual, a few misguided women are going to extremes in following them! Results, if they'd only take a good look in the mirror, are hilarious!

Let's consider the 1958 flapper first. She's wearing a new-look sack. That's what the stores are showing, so we've no complaint here. BUT hers is the shortest (knee-length). It has a pleated skirt and looks old as Mother's teen-age snapshot. If it were't summer, she'd be wearing a racoon coat, too.

As it is, she completes the outfit with long strands of beads—not two or three but six or seven, all of them dropping to waist-length. The wonder is she can stand up straight—or at all.

Her hairdo is mad—a wild and wide short scramble atop her head that overflows a headache band. Nine times out of ten, she has a full face that needs a sleek coiffure and never, in her right mind, should wear a band that cuts facial length. She's a caricature!

So is the vamp! Her skirts are short, shorter, shorter. Her dress has bathing-suit straps and may even—oh, perish!—wind up in a fringed skirt! Her posture's been altered for the outfit. She floats about like an S-curve, stomach and chest rounded out, her back a hol-low. Really weird!

Of course she's taken to a cig-arette holder. It's not a practical one, designed to filter the smoke, but a mile-and-a-half-long job she considers the hallmark of sophis-tication.

Worst of all is the woman who's adopted the "little girl look." If she's past her early 20's—and she's usually closer to 40—it's a catas-trophe, no matter how youthful her figure and appearance. With rare exception, this is a fashion for teenagers and a few slim, trim girls in their early twenties. Even then, it can be too cute and too precious!

The "little girl look" is charac-terized by several styles which were worn by real little girls at the century's turn: the hip-length mid-dy blouse with pleated skirt; the sailor suit, again with a hip-length blouse; the dress with rounded col-lar and enormous neckline bow.

These fashions are becoming to-teens if they stop there. But not Young beauties and, worse yet, older ones, top them off with roll-brim hats complete with long streamers. They wear shoes with ribbon bows across the instep.

It's too much! A big girl can't look like a little one and shouldn't try.

Follow the fashions, but in mod-eration. Don't be a caricature!

Miss Barbara Pontius
Honored with Linen Shower

A linen shower was held in hon-or of Miss Barbara Pontius, bride-elect of Mr. Robert C. Boggs, Thursday evening. The shower was given by Mrs. L. Robert Lis-ton Jr., Mrs. John Boggs and Mrs. Carl Reichelderfer. It was held in the Tarilton home of Mrs. Reich-elderfer.

Miss Pontius opened her gifts seated under a decorated umbrella with streamers flowing to the gifts.

Contests were presented with Mrs. Gale Creager, Miss Sherry Hosler, Miss Linda Creager, Mrs. Paul Mayberry and Mrs. Willard Hosler the winners.

Guests for the occasion were: Mrs. Robert Elsea, Mrs. Willard Hosler and Sherry and Kerrie, Mrs. Gale Creager, Miss Linda Creager, Mrs. Fred Boggs, Mrs. C. W. Albright, Mrs. Elliott Wells,

Swim Group

At Country Club

Approximately 200 members and invited guests attended the per-formance of the Coralina Synchron-ized swimming group at the Pick-away Country Club last night.

The group featured diving, team and solo swimming. Mrs. Edna Hines, who teaches synchronized swimming for the Young Women's Christian Assn. in Columbus, coaches the group.

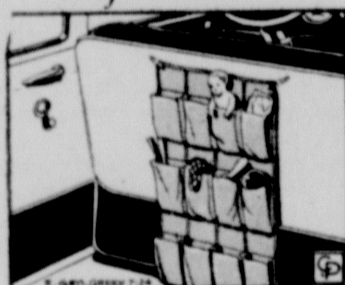

Preceding the swimming pro-gram a carry-in dinner was held for club members and their fami-lies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanton were the chairmen of the commit-tee arranging the program. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brehmer Jr., Dr. and Mrs. David Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

Wife Preservers

A shoe bag, safety-pinned to the back of the car seat, makes a handy catch-all for traveling, especially with small children. Toys, snacks, washcloths—any number of small items can be kept in the pockets.

Doubly-Useful Present
Best Bon Voyage Gift

LEATHER BOODLE BAG holds make-up and money when traveler sightsees. At home, it helps organize crowded bag.

Bon voyage parties always seem to be held on the very brink of de-parture. That's what makes it so difficult to choose a gift for the traveler. At the eleventh hour, what can you select that she hasn't already purchased herself?

Buy her a special travel kit for sewing or cosmetics and you risk duplication. Should she already have one—and most likely she does—your gift is a total loss!

That's why the safe choice is a present that's doubly useful—some-thing she can take with her or, if suitcase space is limited, will be able to use when she gets home.

Here are a few suggestions for gifts that will enhance her appear-ance, or aid beauty and grooming at home or away.

Gloves are a wonderful present at any time. A girl can't have too many pairs. Nylon or other syn-thetic gloves are first choice for travelers. They dry overnight, as-suring the tourist of a ladylike ap-pearance (that means gloves) whatever's on the next day's agenda!

Nylon stockings are another good gift. If she's stocked up for the trip, your supply will be wait-ing when her travel hose comes home in runs. Buy basic shades or, if she's daring, tempt her with nylons in new fashion colors—blue, green, red, charcoal. If she's head-ing for Europe, the colored nylons should really attract attention, make her appear a fashion-wise American.

Small clutch and boodle bags are wonderful. Most travelers—especially if airborne—carry a suitcase-size handbag aboard plane. They'll welcome a tiny purse that can pack flat in lug-gage, be carried around, filled with just a few essentials—money and

Liberal Wins
Nod in Texas

Yarborough Nominated
Over Conservative

DALLAS (AP) — Liberal U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough decisively won renomination in Texas' Democratic primary Saturday but Gov. Price Daniel's conservative forces appeared to have retained control of the party organization and the Texas delegation to the 1960 national convention.

In a clear-cut liberal versus con-servative contest, Yarborough, seeking his first full six-year term, outdistanced William A. Blakley, Dallas multimillionaire who once served four months in the Senate under an interim ap-pointment.

Virtually complete returns Sun-day night gave Yarborough 701,985 votes, Blakley 497,219.

Daniel, who won a thumping clear-cut majority for the guber-natorial nomination, had urged a strong turnout of conservatives at precinct conventions to retain con-trol of the state organization, which has been sought by the liberal organization, the Demo-crats of Texas.

Daniel's backers claimed that conservatives have nailed down 2,588 of the 4,788 delegates to the state convention Sept. 9 in San Antonio. Control of the state or-ganization this year takes on added importance because it will determine the Texas delegation to the 1960 Democratic National Con-vention.

Daniel polled 741,219 votes to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination — tantamount to elec-tion in Texas. Former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel received 222,727 votes, State Sen. Henry B. Gon-zalez 222,249, and Joe Irwin, re-tired insurance man, 32,220.

Eighteen of Texas' congressmen faced no opposition. Three others were renominated. Rep. Martin Dies, whose congressman-at-large job was abolished with the crea-tion of the new 22nd Dist., did not seek office.

In the general election, Daniel will face Ed Mayer, Republican from Sonora. Yarborough will face cattleman and newspaper publisher Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo.

Explorer IV
Expected To Orbit 5 Years

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The world's newest satellite is off to a spectacular start on a five-year journey through space. Scientists keeping a critical eye on Explorer IV announced that the heaviest and most vital of the three U.S. moons in orbit per-formed smoothly during its first 36 hours.

The launching by the amazingly reliable Jupiter-C rocket last Sat-urday was so successful, in fact, that the 38.43-pound tube probably will be the most durable Army satellite yet.

Officials at first expressed con-cern that the latest Army venture might be short lived.

As it looped through an elliptical orbit every 110 minutes, the satel-lite beeped out loud and clear sig-nals on an intense field of radia-tion 600 miles in outer space.

Latest estimates placed Explor-er IV as close to earth as 163 miles and as high as 1,373 miles as it swings around the globe an average of 14 times a day.

Softball Tourney in Full Swing at Ted Lewis Park

With rainfall apparently taking a holiday, the district softball tournament cut loose with full force at Ted Lewis Park Saturday and Sunday night. Doubleheaders were played each night.

Saturday night's twinbill saw Western Auto of Waverly down Circleville Merchants, 3-1, and River Oil shutout Penny Confectionery of Greenfield, 6-0.

Last night Burns' Ready Mix of Jackson pinned a 4-0 defeat on General Electric and Croppies' All-Stars of Chillicothe downed Barr's Barber Shop of Greenfield in a 2-1 thriller.

Waverly picked up its first tourney win by scoring twice in the first inning and once in the sixth. The Merchants tallied their single marker in the bottom of the first.

HARNES gained the win and Sandy Hill of the Merchants was charged with the loss.

River Oil, leading 2-0, got a real boost in the fifth when Tom Bryant smacked a bases-loaded homerun to put the game on ice. Shaffer had a triple for Penny's and Farnham poled a double for RO to complete extra-base blows for the game.

Farnham was the winning hurler and Perie was charged with the loss.

Single runs in the first, third, fourth and fifth frames were all Burns' needed to stop GE. Burns was hitting star for the Jackson nine, collecting a homerun and two doubles in four trips to the plate.

Colby, allowing only two hits, earned the victory. Detillion suffered the loss.

After trailing 1-0, Croppies' All-Stars finally came to life in the fourth to score both their runs. Pitcher Harry Strawser gained the win, although he allowed 10 hits.

THE All-Stars had an uphill struggle as they were out, 10-5. One of the five bingles was a two-bagger by S. Woods.

Tourney action continues tomorrow night with two games on the agenda. In the first it's Laureville vs Beagle's Service and Croppies' vs All-Stars vs Hillsboro Sportsmen's Club.

Two more tests Thursday night call for General Electric to meet Penny Confectionery and Top Hat to battle Tink's Tavern.

Robbie's Bat Booms; Reds Divide Pair

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frankie Robinson, a major disappointment this season to Cincinnati's Redlegs, is beginning to erupt with some slugging again.

But now he needs to show he can hit consistently.

His five-for-eight performance Sunday, including a two-run homer, provided the big power for the Reds who beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-1, in the nightcap, but lost the opener, 4-3, in an afternoon doubleheader.

In four previous games, Robinson punched out only three hits in 15 official tries. He's batting .263 now compared to .322 last year.

The theories about Robinson's slump were abundant. Even some opposing team players said he was going for bad pitches.

But teammate Bob Thurman may have come closest. He said, "I don't think Frankie's been ready for the pitch. It's gotten so he just doesn't believe a pitcher will give him a good pitch to hit."

So then he's saying to himself, "I wish I had swung at that one."

Thurman said Robinson has been going for so many bad pitches that he's a little too cautious now.

"I say all of this," Thurman added, "because I know how Frankie feels. I've been through it a lot."

Circleville Pro Footballer Wishes He'd Stop Growing

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The biggest rookie in the San Francisco 49er camp declares meaningfully, "I sure hope I've quit growing. This thing is getting expensive."

George Troutman tipped the scales at 280 pounds when he reported to the 49ers Saturday. They had thought he was a 265 pounder and he'll probably be a little closer to that by the time the rookie professional gridders finish this week's work.

"When I was a freshman I weighed 245. The next year 255 and then up to 265," the big man from Little Capital University recalled. "Now I'm at 280 and I'd like to have a playing weight of 270-275. If I can carry that much I'd just as soon."

"I sure hope I've quit growing. Each year I've had to buy new clothes. At my size they have to be fitted specially and that's expensive."

Troutman, 21, wears a size 13 1/2 shoe and has them fitted specially too.

He played fullback three years and center one at Capital, on the outskirts of Columbus, Ohio. On defense he was the middle guard.

That's where his hopes lie with the professionals. He can trundle his bulk 100 yards in about 11.5 seconds but on offense he'd probably need more speed.

A native of Circleville, Ohio, the 6-foot-2 athlete had offers from several larger schools but picked Capital since it had become a traditional college for his family.

Pappy Waldorf, former Capital-

nia head coach who heads the talent scouting division of the local pros, says Troutman was on just about everybody's list.

"You don't find sleepers very much any more," he declared. "We all knew about him. We just gambled and took him early in the draft." He was the ninth draft choice.

Eveland, Vaughn Capture PCC Golf Calcutta Tourney

Tom Eveland and Mary Lou Vaughn teamed for a best ball 32 in the Pickaway Country Club calcutta tourney yesterday to walk away with the honors.

Sixteen teams competed in the event which was a mixed best ball over nine holes.

Eveland with a two-stroke handicap and Mrs. Vaughn with a top handicap of 18 came through with a four-under performance scoring an eagle three on No. 5 hole, birds on Nos. 3 and 7 and equaling par on the balance of the round.

Tied for second place with 33s were Bill Eddy and Edith Gordon, and the Fiske O'Hara-Betty Young teams. In a deadlock for fourth place at 34 were teams of Tom McGuire-Grace Fraser and Emmitt Barnhart-Dottie Smith.

Other scores were Karl Mason-Tillie Smith 35; Bill Vaughn-Peg Mason 36; Charles Smith-Miriam Farnhart 37; Jack Plummer-Stelle O'Hara 37; Rudy Chelkowski-Bette Harrod 38; Gordon Fraser-Clara Burton 38; Abner Leach-Fran Chelkowski 39; Willard Crites-Helen McGuire 39; Willard Timmons-Edna Timmons 41; Bob Harrod-Betty Plummer 42; and Art McGran-Ruth Athey 43.

Horseshoe Tourney Nears Final Round

MURRAY, Utah (AP) — The final round robin opens tonight in the 1958 World's Championship Horseshoe Pitching Tournament, but the two favorites probably won't face each other until Wednesday, the last night of action.

The Wednesday night match between Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., the defending champion, and Don Titcomb of Sunnyvale, Calif., his top challenger, might well be the one that decides the crown.

Allen and Titcomb, runner-up in the last two tournaments, each hold 16-1 won-lost records in the preliminary play, which opened last week.

Americans Now Hold Slight Budge In Scoring in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — One of the great spectacles of sports — The United States vs the Soviet Union in a track and field meet in the heart of the Communist world — threatened today to become also one of the great upsets.

America's stalwart team of men and women went into the second day of the two-day competition holding an 83-75 margin. And Uncle Sam's lads and lassies have a fair chance of holding or increasing the precarious lead.

The United States' men figured to defeat the Russian men. But the Soviet women were rated far too powerful for the American gals. So much, in fact, that the Russian women were expected to more than make up the men's deficit and give the Soviets victory. The Russians consider it one big meet. The Americans claim it is two.

But even figuring it the Russians' way, Coaches George Eastment (men) and Ed Temple (women) were hopeful with 17 events on today's schedule.

It could be that victory hinges on the decathlon, the final event of which winds up the meet. Rafe Johnson, lithe Los Angeles athlete, went into the last five events holding a 4,524-4,420 lead over his chief Russian opponent, Vassily Kuznetsov.

Johnson won three of Sunday's five events — the 100 shot put and 400 meters. Kuznetsov captured the broad jump and tied with Dave Edstrom of Sherwood, Ore., for first in the high jump.

While feeling very good, Eastment, coach at Manhattan College, admitted: "If my team led by 100 points with only one event to go, I would still be nervous."

The biggest surprises were the showings of the American women, who trail in points, 30-22, six or eight points better than expected. The U.S. girls won the 100 meters and 400-meter relay event and had a second place in the discus.

Barbara Jones of Tennessee State took the 100-meters in :11.6 while the U.S. team of Isabel Daniels, Lucinda Williams, Margaret Matthews, and Barbara Jones, all of Tennessee State, took the 400-meter relay in :45.4.

There were disappointments too. The pole vault, long considered an American specialty, went to Vladimir Bulatov of Russia, who vaulted 14 feet, 9.17 inches, while Burbank, Calif.'s Ron Morris was second with 14-5.23.

Parry O'Brien, who won the shot put with a heave of 62 feet, 9.56 inches said he felt an especially big urge to do his best.

Besides nationalism, O'Brien said he exploded the shot with "nervous energy."

U.S. Ambassador Llewelyn Thomson was among the nearly 105,000 spectators that jammed Lenin Stadium.

Ira Murchison, Chicago, won the 100 meters in :10.2; Glenn Davis, Columbus, Ohio, took the 400 meters in :45.6; Ansel Robinson, Fresno, Calif., captured the 110-meter high hurdles in :13.9; Murchison, Davis, Jim Segrist, Abilene, Tex., and Ed Collymore, Cambridge, Mass., won the 400-meter relay.

William D. Gilmour of Ridge-way, Ont., was the second leading harness driver in 1958 with 152 winners, four less than Bill Haughton.

Choice H Earns Grandview First

Choice H., owned by Frank Bowling and driven and trained by Jimmy Mace, won the B Pace at Grandview Racetrack Saturday in a time of 2:04.2.

The black pacer, who has been steadily moving up through the ranks of top Ohio pacers, won $1,000 for his efforts. Another local horse placing in the money at the Cleveland Racetrack was Jane R. Counsel.

This brown mare, trained by Ralph Strous, was driven by R. Seabrook. She placed second in a C Pace to share in the $800 purse. Winning time was 2:06.2.

Hatters Win Twinbill

Pitcher Paul Neff played the role of iron man yesterday as he hurled the local Top Hat nine to a doubleheader win at Tremont City.

Top Hat took the first game from Reid-Hurst Insurance in a wild 9-7 contest. The Insurance nine, out of Springfield, was undefeated until yesterday.

The Hatters' second win was at the expense of Tremont City. It was another close tilt, with the locals coming out on top, 5-4. Neff relieved Kenny Reid in the first tilt to grab the win. In the second he came on to relieve Bill Cook and pick up the victory.

Stoutsville Takes 2 Games

Olentangy Falls In 10-1, 7-3 Tilts

Stoutsville's Acme League baseballers showed strength to spare with 10-1 and 7-3 wins over Olentangy yesterday at Stoutsville. Don Maynard got credit for the first win and Warner picked up the victory in the second test. Maynard was in command most of the way, allowing only three hits and fanning 12. Warner relieved Bob Caudill in the second inning of the second game and went on to hurl hitless ball for the remainder of the test. Stoutsville's first game production was the result of 12 hits, including two each by R. Smith, Reinscheld and Maynard. One of Reinscheld's blows was a triple. R. Smith, Maynard also had doubles.

IN THE second test Stoutsville cut loose for eight hits, including another triple by Reinscheld and doubles by Caudill and Griffith. The winners accounted for two runs in the first game on squeeze plays. Reinscheld bunted Strawser in and then Strawser laid one down to bring J. Smith across. Stoutsville registered all seven runs of the second game in the fourth inning. The rally was the result of seven hits in that frame. Olentangy had gone ahead, 3-0, in the second frame, but Warner came on to put out the fire.

Curtis Cup Team Preps For British

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Curtis Cup team, bolstered by one of its star's victory in the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament, is warmed up for its matches with Britain's best next week.

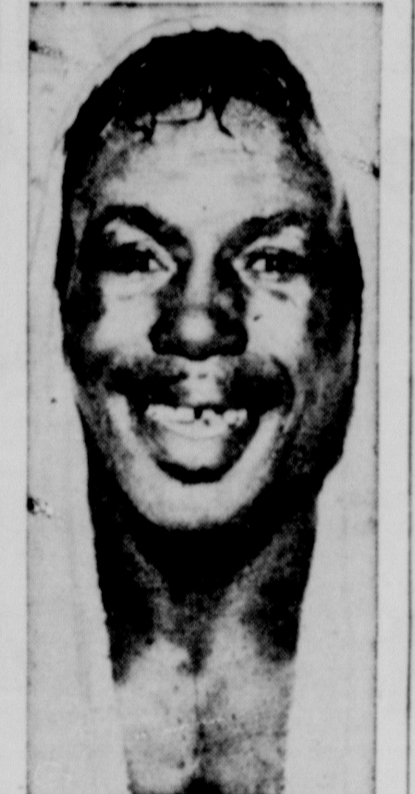

The U. S. team will arrive at the Braeburn Country Club, site of the series in West Newton, Mass., Sunday for practice before the matches Aug. 8 and 9.

The team of six, selected from a group of eight, will not be named by the nonplaying captain, Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill., until the evening before competition starts.

But Mrs. Dennehy probably will find it difficult not to name Barbara McIntire of Jupiter, Fla., and Ann Quast of Everett, Wash. Miss McIntire gave a splendid demonstration of pressure shooting in defeating Miss Quast 2 and 1 in 35 holes to take the Women's Western Amateur crown Saturday.

Miss Quast, the medalist, was a relentless opponent, keeping the match alive with remarkable putting. She one-putted nine greens in the final 17 holes and wound up with a total of 41 for 113 holes played in the meet.

Others making up the U.S. team are Polly Riley, Fort Worth; Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif.; Meriam Bailey, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, Mason City, Iowa; Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio, and the National Amateur champion, Joanne Gunderson, Kirkland, Wash. All but Miss Gunderson played in the Western Amateur.

STILL THE CHAMP—Wearing a towel instead of his mythical crown, Joe Brown flashes his victory grin after successfully defending his lightweight championship against Kenny Lane in a close bout in Houston, Tex.

HIS DEFEAT WAS OFFICIAL—French cycling star Barrigade is robbed of victory in the last lap of the 1958 Tour de France race as he hits and throws (top) a track official who went too close to the course in Paris. He had passed all competing cyclists only to wind up (bottom) getting attention for injuries.

Wall Pockets Top Cash in Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Fondling a new check for $2,800, Art Wall Jr. must be thinking sweet thoughts today of a druggist at Honesdale, Pa.

The check is Wall's prize for defeating Bob Rosburg and Jack Burke Sunday on the first hole of a spine-tingling sudden death playoff in the Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

The druggist is George Lang, a long-time friend of Art's father. Lang once owned the antique wooden-shafted putter with which Wall Sunday sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole at Mt. Pleasant golf course. He gave the club to Art for a Christmas present 13 years ago. Rosburg and Burke matched par 5 on the showdown hole after they and Wall each had fired a 5-under-par 67 to finish the regulation holes all even at 276. Earlier, Wall had canned a 15-footer for a birdie on the last green to gain the tie. Rosburg, playing with him in the next-to-last three-some on the course, also birdied the final hole, dropping a six-foot putt.

Gary Player, the bouncy little South African who had led the field by one stroke going into the last round, staged a rousing finish by birdying the last two holes. But his 69 was good enough for only a 277 total and fourth place.

Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C., also posted a final round 67 to finish with Mike Fetchick in a tie for fifth at 283. Fetchick had 71 Sunday.

U.S. Airlifting British Munitions

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The British Embassy said today the U.S. Air Force Sunday night began airlifting supplies of ammunition from Cyprus for British troops in Jordan. An embassy spokesman said a dozen C-119 Flying Boxcars were involved. "These aircraft are more suitable for certain types of supplies than ours," he said. He added the American airlift supplements the regular British airlift from the Cyprus bastion and is of a temporary nature, to last probably about a week.

Workmen Busy Shaping Up Fairgrounds for State Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buzz saws hum and hammers whang away at Ohio State Fairgrounds these days, and the air is filled with the sounds of busy men at work.

They're building and painting and in a hundred other ways getting the huge northside site ready for the Aug. 22 opening of what fair officials say very matter-of-factly will be the 'greatest show in the world.'

The fair's theme this year honors fair is open. But as always it'll be the livestock shows and the headline talent that draw the crowds. Sixteen acts are on tap this year, most of them big-name entertainers. Singer-actor Dean Martin figures to be the biggest draw. Others taking the stage include Erin O'Brien, Tommy Sands, Ted Lewis, the Vagabonds, Ben Alexander, Gabby Hayes, Molly Bee, Dennis Day, George Gobel, the June Taylor Dancers, Smiley Burnette, Sky King and Penny, the Lennon Sisters, Lee Castle, Johnny Cash and the Jimmy Dorsey band.

An innovation this year will be a professional football game between the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles. They clash in a charity game Aug. 4. The expanded stadium will seat 25,000 and ticket prices range from $3 to $5.50. Enlarging the stadium was only one of several physical improvements fairgoers will see this year, says Fair Manager D. Robert Jones. In all, about $250,000 worth of improvements have been made to make the grounds more attractive, safe and efficient, Jones said. A new hospital house has been built, new fronts have been built for the grandstand and poultry and Columbus building and several new marquees have been constructed.

Aside from the entertainment and football game the fair will also offer livestock and poultry judging contests, harness racing and a wide variety of other attractions including:

Games, rides and square dancing. Free cartoons and free fishing for children.

Performances by the all-Ohio boys' band, and baton twirling contests.

Demonstrations by 4-H Club members, campfire girls and F. F. A. members.

The junior fair, nearly a score of governmental Sheep shearing contests, horse shows, and livestock sales.

A fashion show. A shutter bug contest for best pictures of the fair.

State government exhibits by departments.

And in addition to days honoring Presidents William Henry Harrison, U. S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William Howard Taft and Warren G. Harding, there'll be Ladies Day, Sports Day, Armed Forces Day, Crippled Children and Handicapped Workers Day and several other "special days."
